A report to the shareholders: The 1988 municipal budget

Glenview's municipal budget for 1988 is a fiscal blueprint of village programs and services for the year, as well as the legal spending authority.

Its total of $18.5 million, an increase of 6% over 1987, includes Corporate, Pension, Water and Sewer, Library, and Debt-Service Funds.

Of particular interest is the Corporate Fund, which finances basic village services: public works, fire, police, development, and finance.

Revenues

1988 Corporate Fund revenues are projected at $11.4 million, an increase of $1.2 million over 1987, due primarily to growth in sales, property, state income-tax, and hotel-tax revenues.

Sales taxes, Glenview's largest contributor to the Corporate Fund, are expected to rise from $2.8 million in 1987 to $3.2 million in 1988. Of the increased amount, about 35% is attributable to auto sales, 19% to food, 11% to restaurants, 9% to lumber and hardware, and 9% to drugs and other retail sales. Manufacturing, apparel, agriculture, furniture, and general merchandise sales account for the remaining 17%.

The hotel tax (5%) accounted for $69,000 in 1987, and is expected to amount to $287,781 in 1988.

Property taxes are expected to increase by $300,000, due to annexations and new construction. Even with a fixed tax rate, revenue grows because the tax base expands.

Expenditures

Most expenditures are for existing personnel and equipment, but there are some other costs as well.

Capital improvements scheduled for 1988 include street reconstruction, removal and replacement of pavements, curbs, and gutters on Prairie St., Maplewood Ln., and Potter Rd. A new street, Wildwood Terrace, will be constructed between Glenwood Ave. and Woodlawn Rd.

Rehabilitation (stripping and replacement of street surface and rejuvenation of curbwall) is scheduled for the Raleigh-Vernon area north of Glenview Rd.

Routine crack sealing, sidewalk extension, and rehabilitation of sidewalks are scheduled for Tall Trees, Waukegan Rd. within village limits, Henley St., Dewes St., and the Golfview area.

North Kalas, Glenview Public Works maintenance and equipment operator, runs the village snowblower, which picks up piles of plowed snow in the business district and deposits them in trucks for hauling to vacant land or the river. The snowblower was acquired about 5 years ago.

Snow removal: a cooperative effort

Whenever there is a big snowstorm, some residents call the Village Hall to inquire about inadequate or delayed snow removal on main arteries.

So every year we explain that the Glenview Public Works Department plows only some of the main roads in addition to village streets, because most of the large arteries belong to either the state or the county. (Glenview is allowed to handle only emergency repairs, such as water-main breaks or cave-ins, on roads belonging to other governmental entities.)

Here are the roads maintained and plowed by the State of Illinois: Dearlove Rd., Golf Rd., Greenwood Rd., Milwaukee Ave., Pfingsten Rd. north of Lake Avenue, Waukegan Rd., West Lake Avenue (a small street running from the high school to the air base), and Willow Rd.

Those maintained and plowed by Cook County: Harms Rd., Lake Ave., Landwehr Rd., Lehigh Ave., Sunset Ridge Rd., Wagner Rd. north of Glenview Rd., and Winnetka Ave.

Glenview plows 105 miles of roads—ways: Central Rd., Chestnut Ave., Glenview Rd., Harlem Ave., Shermer Rd., and all Glenview side streets except private roads.

Glenview also plows 40 miles of sidewalks: part of Harlem Ave., both sides of Glenview Rd., Lake Ave. wherever accessible, Milwaukee Ave. wherever accessible, all sidewalks near schools, and all sidewalks in the business district.

Public Works has 32 vehicles equipped for snow removal, and each is manned (or womaned)—all Public Works personnel turn out for a snow alert, including secretaries, who drive the Broncos, clearing cul de sacs) whenever snowfall reaches a depth of about 2 inches, or whenever sleet or ice warrents immediate attention.

The village employs a weather prediction service, which calls Glenview Public Works Superintendent Frank Wollscheid whenever bad weather is on the way. Wollscheid, a long-time village employee, can almost exactly predict when a 2-inch limit will be reached or other conditions require work, and alerts the crew. No matter what the hour, everyone reports promptly.

Each driver is given a book containing a detailed set of maps of the area for which he or she is responsible, with the exceptions (private roads) marked in a contrasting color for exclusion.

NO OVERNIGHT PARKING on Glenview streets through March 31. Village crews must clean the roadways during early-morning hours. Please remove snow and ice from sidewalks promptly.

Stop, look, listen ... and WAIT at the railroad tracks!

About 650 people a year in the U.S. decide to race an oncoming train at a rail crossing — and pay with their lives for the wrong decision.

Herschel Leibowitz, psychology professor at Penn State, says that both visual and psychological factors contribute to the 7,000+ annual accidents at railway crossings. (With about 27,000 locomotives in operation, the rate is far out of proportion.)

Wrong decisions on the part of drivers who make faulty judgments about train speeds and distance are the causes of most deaths, not poor visibility or inadequate warnings.

Large objects like locomotives are perceived as moving more slowly than small ones traveling at the same speed. Also, the illusion of perspective makes locomotives appear farther away than they really are.

Remember this when your wait seems too long at a railroad crossing: Warning systems and gates are designed to protect the slowest car in the worst weather from the fastest train.

If you think you are waiting "forever" for a train to pass, glance at your watch (or the clock on the dashboard) and you will see that it's rarely more than 3 or 4 minutes. It just seems long.

Relax and take a couple of deep breaths. Paying with your life certainly isn't worth saving a few minutes!

AARP TAX-AIDE SERVICE is free to seniors, whether or not they are members of AARP. IRS-trained volunteers will be available through April 15 at the Glenview State Bank (Logan Cox, 729-1900), Northfield Township and the Glenview Village Hall (Diane Harris, 724-8300), and the Glenview Senior Center (724-4793). Because a large work load is expected due to many changes in the tax law this year, please make your appointment early. Volunteers will fill out forms for you, or check them if already they're already filled out.

For Glenview Seniors:

Carol Karol, Glenview's Senior Coordinator, has an office at the Village Hall, 1225 Waukegan Rd. (lower level), and is available there Tuesdays and Wednesdays, 9am-1pm and all day Thursdays, for free consultation with elderly residents and/or their families. For more information call 724-1700, X232. See the Senior News Display in the Finance Department office (upper level), offering free literature of importance to the elderly.

LONG-TERM CARE (or nursing-home) INSURANCE WORKSHOP, Thursday, January 21, 1pm, Glenview Senior Center (901 Sherman Rd.) — Jean Cleland of the North Shore Senior Center explores choices. Please reserve in advance by calling Carol Karol, 724-1700, X232.

UNDERSTANDING ALZHEIMER'S — Four Wednesdays, February 3, 10, 17, 24, 7:30-9pm, Winnetka Community House (620 Lincoln Ave., Winnetka) — Legal and financial ramifications, family coping, common-sense approaches to patient management, community resources, and care for the care-giver. Register in advance by calling 446-8750; fee is $25 per family.

PARKINSON'S PROGRAMS — for care-givers to Parkinson's sufferers — are given one full day each week at the North Shore Senior Center. For more call Michele Corrado, 446-8750.

LIFECALL MEDICAL ALERT SYSTEMS, protection for the elderly living alone or those needing immediate help in medical emergencies, are now available locally. For complete information on sales or leasing, call Guardian Angel, 729-0066.

FREE LEGAL SERVICES (except for criminal, traffic, personal-injury, worker compensation, large-estate planning, real-estate closings, and cases where private attorneys have already been hired) are available to Cook County residents 60 and older through Senior Citizens' Legal Services, 828 Davis St., Evanston (475-3703). Call for help with Medicare, Medicaid, SSI, SSP, public-aid, food-stamp, Social Security, and Unemployment Compensation matters; labor, pension, and consumer problems; joint-tenancy and small-estate matters; real-estate title questions. (The program is sponsored by the Chicago Bar Association and the Suburban Cook County Agency on Aging.)

INFORMATION ON LIVING WILLS: Call 446-8750 and ask for a copy of the Illinois Living-Will Act (how to make sure your wishes are carried out in the event your life is threatened by a serious or incurable illness).

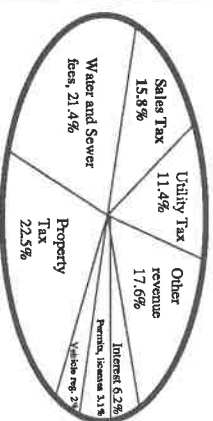

STATE COMPREHENSIVE HEALTH INSURANCE (for disabled persons ineligible for affordable private policies) will be available April 1. Meanwhile, those who already have private insurance should retain their current coverage until the state pool is ready to function. We will keep you posted.

The tree-replacement program will provide some 275 new plantings for parkways. An additional 175, paid for by developers, will be planted in new subdivisions, in compliance with the subdivision code.

Expenditures for new personnel in 1988 include one sergeant and one traffic officer for the Police Department, one zoning/code-enforcement officer and a part-time planner for the Development Department, and two maintenance/equipment operators for the Public Works Department.

As space permits, we will include announcements of upcoming nonprofit, nonsectarian, nonpartisan events of interest to a large part of the community. Items for the February 15-March 15 issue should reach the Village Hall by noon Wednesday, January 20, or the editor (657-3865) by Monday, January 25.

GLENVIEW YOUTH BASEBALL REGISTRATION (including pony and colt leagues) will be held 2 Saturdays, Jan. 16 and 23, 10am-2pm, and Monday, Jan. 25, 6-9pm, at both Glenview Ice Center and Rugen Center. All registrants play; no games conflict with soccer; younger players grouped by neighborhood, older ones by age and proficiency; ages 11 and 12 play "Bronco" rules (allowing runners to lead off bases). All children eligible if enrolled in grade 2 through age 18 (provided birthdays are before August 1 of this year). Parents or guardians must accompany registrants, and new registrants must present birth certificates. For more call Bill Palmer (729-2143) or Madge Mineilli (998-8472).

NORTH SUBURBAN TOASTMASTERS meet first and third Thursdays of each month, Glenview Public Library (Maynard Room), 7:30pm; guests welcome. Participants learn how to make effective presentations for business and community affairs. For more call 272-1175.

CONGRATULATIONS TO the Family Service Center of Glenview/Kenilworth/Northbrook/Wilmette, which is celebrating its 75th anniversary of service to individuals and families. Currently, cases run to 400 per month. Fees are based on family size and income; insurance may cover 50% of costs, and additional funding is available through United Way and Northfield and New Trier Townships. For more call 251-7350.

JAMES A. DOPPKE, a resident of Glenview for 13 years, has been appointed to the Glenview Public Library Board of Trustees to serve an unexpired term until April of 1989. Currently vice president for educational affairs at the College of Lake County, where he served as interim president during the last academic year, he is a director of the Red Cross of Lake County, and a member of Lake County's Navy League and Economic Development Commission. He is a graduate of Notre Dame and the University of Chicago, and holds a Ph.D. degree in English.

PAGE PASSPORTS (monthly passes for NORTHRAN buses) cost $49.50 ($24.75 for special users) in January, and increase to $50 ($25 for special users) in February, reflecting hikes in CTA fares. Passes are on sale at Jewel Food stores and by mail with a form obtained from bus drivers. For more call 1-800-972-7000.
